VETERANS' REUNION.

Men Who Fought for the Confederacy Gather at Memphis.

WELCOMED BY CITY.

Opening Session Consisted of Speeches of Greetings and Responses. Colonel Young of Louisville Orator of the Day.

Memphis, May 28.—Although the hour for calling the convention of the United Confederate Veterans to order was 10 o'clock this morning, according to programme, it was 20 minutes later when General George W. Gordon of Memphis rapped the desk with a gavel made of wood taken from a tree which shaded the favorite seat of Jefferson Davis at Beauvoir, Miss. "You will please rise, comrades," he said, "while our chaplain-in-chief delivers the invocation." Rev. J. William Jones of Richmond, Va., then advanced to the front, and while the veterans stood bareheaded he delivered an appropriate prayer. At the conclusion of the prayer Gen. Gordon made a short speech in introducing Governor McMillin of Tennessee, who welcomed the delegates in behalf of the state. Governor McMillin gave a most hearty welcome to the visitors. He complimented the men of the south on their glorious record in the war and deplored the fact that so many of the glorious band had passed away. Cheer after cheer greeted the governor as he resumed his seat.

Mayor Williams of the city of Memphis was next introduced by General Gordon and extended to the visitors the welcome of the city.

Greetings of the Memphis veterans and the executive committee of citizens of Memphis were then extended by ex-United States Senator T. B. Turley, who was introduced by General Gordon.

Senator Turley opened his address by declaring it was a pleasure and duty for him to extend the greetings of the citizens of Memphis. Among the citizens, he said, were many who during the war had placed their sympathy and resources against the cause of the Confederacy. To these citizens of Memphis who had opposed the south during the war, much of the success of the reunion was due. His announcement of the part taken in the work by federal sympathizers was greeted with repeated cheers. The senator expressed again in his closing address, the great gratification of the veterans of Memphis and members of the executive committee in meeting the old soldiers of the south.

Chairman Gordon then in a happy little speech brought forward Hon. Tim E. Cooper of Mississippi, who extended a welcome to the Daughters of the Confederacy, to the Confederate Southern Memorial association and to the representatives of the Jefferson Davis Monument association. The address of Judge Cooper was received with great applause.

General Gordon then made a little speech tendering the hall to the veterans

for their use during the convention and turning it over to General John B. Gordon of Georgia, grand commander of the United Confederate Veterans, as their representative.

The mention of the name of General John B. Gordon was greeted with cheer after cheer as the tall form of the grand commander was seen advancing from the rear of the platform. "Bang" went the gavel in the hands of General John B. Gordon, but the cheers went on, veterans standing upright, swinging hats and giving again and again a yell of welcome. "Bang, bang," went the gavel, but to no avail. "Please let us have quiet," rang the clear penetrating voice of General Gordon, piercing through the house. "Delegates will please resume their seats," and after a few more sounds of vociferous welcome, the delegates sat down.

General John B. Gordon made a short address in accepting the hall in behalf of the veterans.

At the conclusion of the commander-in-chief's address General Stephen D. Lee presented an oaken gavel whose head was made from the wood of the steamer Star of the West, at which was fired the first shot of the war as it attempted to carry relief to Fort Sumter, the handle being made from a tree growing on the estate of Beauvoir. General George W. Gordon then delivered the gavel made from wood taken from a tree growing on the battlefield of Appomattox.

In a neat address General John B. Gordon accepted both gavels. He then presented in a few happy words, Col. Bennett H. Young of Louisville, orator of the day. Colonel Young spoke at length and received many applause.

While Colonel Young was in the midst of his address the form of General Fitz-Hugh Lee was seen as the general plowed his way through the crowd on his way to the platform. He was greeted with warm cheers as he stepped upon the platform. General Gordon stepped forward, grasped his hand warmly and turning round to the delegates said: "Comrades, I have only to mention the name of Lee." The cheers redoubled in force and volume, and General Lee was compelled to repeatedly bow his acknowledgments of the hearty greeting of old comrades.

Colonel Young's oration was received with hearty cheers as he resumed his seat.

Commander John B. Gordon then gave way to General George W. Gordon, who introduced Rt. Rev. Bishop Thomas F. Gailor of Memphis, who delivered the address of welcome to veterans and of greetings from local branch of Sons of Veterans.

As he finished General Joe Wheeler entered the hall and ascended the stand and was greeted with great enthusiasm. He spoke briefly as did General Lee.

Senator W. B. Bate was then introduced and spoke briefly.

The membership of the committee was announced and the convention adjourned till 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The estimate is that more than 35,000 veterans and visitors are in the city.

Sons of Veterans.

Memphis, May 28.—The sixth annual reunion of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans was called to order in the Auditorium at 10:45 o'clock this morning by Right Hon. Bishop Thomas F. Gailor of Memphis. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. George Patterson of Memphis. Owing to a general misunderstanding regarding the time of the meeting the attendance was very meager, the majority of the delegates having gone to Confederate Hall.

The Auditorium was beautifully decorated with the national colors, while over the stage hung pictures of General Stonewall Jackson, General Robert E. Lee, General N. B. Forrest and others who had been intrepid leaders in the Southern Confederacy. At the rear of the stage, sitting in a semi-circle, were the sponsors and maids of honor of the different camps of the Sons of Veterans, wearing vari-colored badges and streamers pertaining to their camps and forming a beautiful background to the occasion.

Brigade Commander R. Leedy Matthews of Memphis assumed the chair and introduced division commander of Tennessee, James J. Bean of Lynchburg, Tenn., who delivered the address of welcome. After a few brief speeches the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock and marched in a body to the Confederate hall to participate in the reunion exercises with the veterans.

President Passes Council Bluffs.

Council Bluffs, Ia., May 28.—Presidential train reached Omaha at 7:30 o'clock this morning. A cheer went up from the crowd assembled in the station as the president appeared on rear platform of his car. He shook hands with several hundred persons. WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, 1901.

Every indication points to a great meeting at the session of the Farmers Congress July 23 to 25.

In the death of H. Schumacher Navasota has lost one of her foremost, best and most public spirited citizens, a man who used his wealth in a manner benefitting the community.

A special correspondent of the Galveston News, writing from New York, says: "After the first of next year, plans will be concluded for the extension of the I. & G. N. to Fort Worth, where the road will connect with the Fort Worth and Denver, which road together with the Colorado Southern, Denver and Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western it is understood now belongs to the Goulds, and it is desired to operate these lines principally for the purpose of establishing direct connection between Colorado and Northwestern points with the Gulf at Galveston. In other words, the very ideas that C. P. Huntington was working on to concentrate his rail lines at Galveston are being carried out today very quietly by the Goulds, so that within a very short time it will be found that instead of the Southern Pacific and Atchison being the big lines handling the export traffic via Galveston, the Goulds will be in it, perhaps as big or bigger than either of them."

My Faith Looks Up to Thee

A most glorious sacred duet, will be sung by the vocalists in the concert Thursday. Dont fail to hear it.

The Southern Concert Company

Gives a high class entertainment—everything is clean and elevating. The vocal music is mostly sacred as its members are all connected with the best church choir at home. The sacred duets are very inspiring.

Miss Bessie Howell Warner—Houston's favorite reader and contralto will take the place of Mr. Kincaid in the Southern Concert Company. She is a fine elocutionist and was the sponsor to the National encampment at South Carolina last year—As a singer she is the pride of Houston.

The concert by the ladies of the Christian church at the opera house Friday night, May 31, will be one of the best musical entertainments ever given here.

COUNTY FAIR MEETING.

The Movement Has Been Set on Foot and Promises to be a Success.

The mass meeting at the opera house Monday night to consider the county fair question was very well attended and more successful than many anticipated. Mr. W. E. Saunders was made president and F. Marion Law, secretary.

A number took part in the discussion of the matter. Among the speakers were Col. L. L. Foster, Prof. J. H. Connell, J. E. Butler, W. R. Johnston, W. S. Howell and J. W. Dyer. All were heartily in favor of the movement, the speeches of Col. Foster, Prof. Connell and Mr. Butler being particularly strong.

They presented every phase of the subject, enumerating the advantages that a fair would be to the town and county, chief among which was mentioned the encouragement a fair would be to the people in raising fine stock and profitably growing other crops besides cotton, so that the county would never find itself in a dilemma such as the present one when the cotton crop, the mainstay of the country, is threatened to the extent of total destruction by the boll weevil. With only one money crop the people of this country are the terror stricken slaves of a little bug.

The advantages of the introduction of new machinery and the exchange of ideas as the result of the people of the various surrounding counties being brought together were also made plain, and the fair sentiment was perceptibly strengthened.

Col. Foster said the college would contribute exhibits of stock and products, mechanical and otherwise, and that there was now in contemplation a plan to make a college exhibit at the Dallas and San Antonio fairs and that the same exhibit would be available for the Brazos county fair.

After the speaking it was proposed to take stock subscriptions at $25 per share, and over $500 was taken by those present. The idea of absorbing the driving club seems to be growing in favor, and as that organization has $600 worth of stock taken, this would raise the amount to over $1100 which is a good starter, to say the least of it. The fair soliciting committee was instructed to take the matter up and push it to success, and we understand members of the committee who were on the street yesterday met with a great deal of encouragement from many of the business men. It is also confidently believed that the college people and many of the farmers of the county will take stock and help in the matter. Altogether the outlook is very encouraging for a county fair this year. A little more hustling will make it a cinch.

Cloudcroft the Incomparable.

Situated on the highest peak of the Sacramento Mountains in New Mexico just north of El Paso, at an elevation of 9000 feet, Cloudcroft is destined to become the Mecca, the veritable "breathing spot" of the South west. Its pure and invigorating mountain air, laden with the healing aroma of the pine, will again tinge the faded cheek of the invalid with the rose of health, while to those seeking surcease from the monotony of a commercial occupation, it offers a complete rejuvenation of flagging energies and the sufferer returns to once more to take his place in the rank of commercial activity, filled with new life and vigor.

To the lover of the beautiful in nature, its magnificent mountain forests, traversed by delightful and grassy glades, present a picture of beauty which is enhanced by the grandeur of the surrounding mountain scenery, presenting to the eye "A gem of purest ray serene," a panorama of beauty unequaled on the American continent.

In preparations which have been made for the accommodations of its guests, Cloudcroft has assumed decided metropolitan airs. The Lodge, a hotel, modern in its appointments has been erected, furnishing accommodations for approximately 200 persons. A commodious dancing pavilion is one of the favored institutions in connection with this hostelry, while for those seeking recreation and exercises, golf links, and tennis courts have been provided.

Now a suggestion as to how to reach Cloudcroft. The Houston and Texas Central R. R., and the "Sunset Route," as the leading line of rail-ways from Central and South Texas to the Mexican border, will best fill every requirement for a pleasant and interesting trip.

OUR WAR POSSESSIONS

United States Supreme Court Defines Their Standing.

SAME AS TERRITORY

The Decisions in Substance Is Congress Only Has the Power to Tax Imports and Exports of Our New Territory.

Washington, May 28.—In the United States supreme court yesterday opinions were handed down in all but two of the cases involving the relations of the United States to its insular possessions. The two cases in which conclusion was not announced were those known as the Fourteen Diamond Rings case and the second Dooley case. The latter deals with a phase of the Porto Rican question and the diamond rings case involves the right to the free importation of merchandise from the Philippines to the United States.

The two cases which attracted the greatest share of attention from the court were the DeLima and the Downes case and of these two the opinion in the Downes is considerably more far-reaching as it affects our future relations, whereas the DeLima case appeared to be quite sweepingly opposed to the government's contentions, many persons precipitately concluded the government had been worsted all along the line. This view suffered a decided change when the conclusion was announced in the Downes case. The court was very evenly divided on both cases, but political lines did not control.

The DeLima case involved the power of the government to collect a duty on goods imported into the United States from Porto Rico after the ratification of the treaty of Paris and before the passage of the Porto Rico act. The court said the government's contention in this case was substantially a claim that Porto Rico is foreign territory. The court held that the position was not well taken, that Porto Rico was at the time a territory and the duty collected must be returned.

The Downes case dealt with the legality of the exaction of duties on goods imported from Porto into New York after the passage of the Foraker act providing for duty upon goods shipped from the United States into Porto Rico and also on those shipped from Porto Rico to the United States. In this case the court held that such exaction was legal and constitutional.

The point of the two opinions considered collectively, is that Porto Rico was never after the acquisition of that island foreign territory, that until congress acted upon the question no duty could be collected, but that as soon as congress outlined a method of controlling the island's revenues that action became binding; in other words, that congress has power under the constitution to prescribe the manner of collecting the revenues of the country's insular possessions and has the right to lay a duty on goods imported into our insular possessions from the United States or exported from them into the United States. It holds, in brief, that for taxation purposes they are not a part of the United States to the extent that goods shipped between their ports and the United States are entitled to the same treatment as though they were shipped between New York and New Orleans.

Justice Brown delivered these two opinions and there were vigorous dissenting opinions in both. In the Downes case four of the court united in an opinion characterizing in strong language opinion of the majority in that case. In this opposing opinion Chief Justice Fuller, Justices Harlan, Brewer and Peckham united and the chief justice and Justice Harlan presented their views in written form. Justices Gray, Shiras, White and McKenna also while agreeing with the conclusion announced by Justice Brown announced that they had reached the conclusion by different lines of argument and Justices Gray, White and McKenna announced opinions outlining their respective positions. Justices Shiras, White and McKenna also dissented in the DeLima case uniting in an opinion. Justice Gray also presented an independent and dissenting opinion in that case.

The other cases decided by the court were those of Goetze vs. the United States involving duties on importations from Porto Rico and Crossman vs. the United States, duties on Hawaiian imports being involved. In these two cases the DeLima case was followed and the assessment duties prior to enactment of legislation for the islands held illegal. The last assessment of duties was partly sustained and partly upheld in the cases of Dooley and Armstrong vs. the United States. The duties were held legal when made during military occupation and prior to ratification of the peace treaty, but illegal when levied after the peace treaty, but prior to passage of the Foraker act.

The supreme court also decided what is known as the Huus case, involving the question whether vessels plying between Porto Rico and New York are engaged in the coasting trade. The court's decision held they were so engaged.

No Further Decisions.

Washington, May 28.—After a session of three minutes this morning the United States supreme court adjourned until October. The brief session was devoted to the formal disposition of motions. The two remaining insular cases, one of them that of the 14 diamond rings, dealing with importations from the Philippines, and the other known as the Second Dooley, involving the question of exportations from the United States to Porto Rico, failed to receive attention and they go over until the next term.

No Change for Philippines.

Washington, May 28.—Treasury officials say there is nothing in the supreme court decisions which require government changes of administration custom laws in the Philippines.

New Road Projected.

New Orleans, La., May 28.—The Gulf, Rice Bait and Northern railroad, a Louisiana-Texas enterprise projected from Crowley, La., to Dallas, Tex., is now almost assured. The capitalists who are pushing it will incorporate within a week, with James Orr, the banker-capitalist of Champaign, Ill., as president. The road will first be built from Crowley to the vicinity of Leesville.

Habeas Corpus Refused.

Washington, May 28.—Judge Barnard has refused to issue a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Mrs. Bonine charged with the killing of James Ayres. The affair is still the talk of the town.

Franklin Bros are handling the best line of refrigerated meats that was ever furnished the people of Bryan.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles. "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectation, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Get Green's Prize Almanac. For sale by Wilson-Jenkins Drug Co.

FOR MOTHERS.

The period immediately following child-birth is fraught with many dangers. The strength has been used in the painful ordeal through which the mother has passed and she finds herself helpless and weakened. Many mothers, like Mrs. Ford, date the beginning of their illness from the birth of their child. Indeed the frequent spectacle of a healthy young woman becoming a chronic invalid after motherhood is one of the tragedies of life. All this is unnecessary, when Wine of Cardui is obtainable. It rehabilitates the shattered nervous system, strengthens the organs and ligaments, and re-establishes a healthy, natural condition, saving years of chronic sickness and suffering.

Wine of Cardui taken just before confinement will render the ordeal comparatively painless. It will re-enforce and strengthen the organs for their work. For every trying crisis in a woman's life, Wine of Cardui is the medicine to take. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui and take no substitute. If one is offered send $1.00 for a bottle to the Chattanooga Medicine Company, Chattanooga, Tenn.

WINE OF CARDUI

Clarkson, Ark., July 20, 1899.
After my baby was born I took the whites and falling of the womb, and was in a very dangerous condition. I read one of your home treatment books, and commenced to treat myself with Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught. I am thankful for what the medicine did for me, and I am now in better health than I have been for a long time.
